

Administrative Grievance Procedure

This class will provide an employee or management with an understanding of the DAO-202-771 Administrative Grievance Procedure. A procedure under which an employee, or a group of employees acting as individuals, may request personal relief in a matter of concern or dissatisfaction regarding their employment.