

Modifying Employee Behavior in the Workplace:

This briefing is to provide managers and supervisors with information regarding the purpose for taking conduct-based actions utilizing the principle of progressive discipline and the distinct processes for taking such actions.